SUBJECT: 86th Annual Virginia Middle and High School Principals Conference & Exposition June 23 – June 26, 2013 (School Law Clinic, School Data as a Leadership Tool Workshop June 23, 2013)

Virginia's only statewide conference for middle level and high school principals is the Annual Virginia Middle and High School Principals Conference & Exposition. For 85 consecutive years the Virginia Association of Secondary School Principals (VASSP) and the Virginia Department of Education (VDOE) have collaborated to develop and enhance middle level and high school administrators' leadership skills, increase their understanding of current educational issues, and expand their knowledge base for success. The Conference will be held June 23 – June 26, 2013, at The Homestead in Hot Springs, Virginia. A cordial invitation is extended to principals, assistant principals, division superintendents, assistant superintendents, directors of instruction, supervisors, college personnel, and administrators of nonpublic middle and high schools to attend.

The theme for this year's conference is "Leadership S³ – Shaping Successful Solutions." It addresses how principals can achieve goals through shaping perceptions of problems, solutions, and people. How educators understand themselves, their work, and others engaged in education – is critical to school leadership. Attending the annual conference is the optimal solution for shaping leadership learning, professional development, and – by extension – our leaders of tomorrow. Educators have learned much from the business sector including their uses of Leadership S3. The annual conference blends the use of education and business strategies in shaping successful solutions. Although the Commonwealth has policies, metrics, and rubrics in place, principals need to not only be comfortable in their knowledge of these evaluation guidelines and other performance indicators, but also be able to implement them effectively, synergistically, and strategically. It is important that school principals set school expectations that incorporate national, state, and local mandates in guiding student achievement, requiring quality instructional delivery and pursuing leadership goals for success. This conference addresses national and state mandates important to school principals.

The Title II, Part A – Teacher and Principal Training and Recruiting funds may be used to support attendance at this conference. The conference program addresses the key principles of professional development for principals. Attending the summer conference will provide participants opportunities to explore their leadership strengths and how they can be enhanced to generate a school culture of performance success.

The VDOE Colloquium will address recent national and state mandates and the school leadership expectations of principals. In addition, the Colloquium will focus on resources and implementation strategies that have been successfully used in schools to improve instruction in the core curriculum areas – mathematics, science, English, and history/social science.

The Professional Practices Symposium will focus on exemplary practices that excel in content delivery for students in today's schools. The fast-paced learning environment necessitated by the global economy requires a competitive edge. Principals must understand, appreciate and implement effective performance systems.

Pre-conference activities on Sunday, June 23, 2013, will include the School Law Clinic and School Data as a Leadership Tool Workshop. Major concurrent sessions will include pertinent topics identified in the recent statewide 2013 Middle Level and High School Principals Needs Assessment which include nine (9) strands: 1) School Leadership, Administration, and Management; 2) SOL/Curriculum and Instruction/Remediation; 3) SOA/Accountability; 4) NCLB/AYP/Teacher Quality/LEP/Special Education; 5) Assessment and Data Analysis; 6) Instructional Technology; 7) Student Services and Programs (e.g., school safety, discipline, dropout prevention); 8) Personal (e.g., stress management, time management, health and fitness awareness); and, 9) Educational Law and Policy.

The 2013 summer conference will officially begin with an opening general session at 10 a.m. on Monday, June 24, 2013.
